

The proposed changes in the FCC media ownership rules are ill-conceived and certainly not in the best interests of the American public. There is great opposition to those changes and you would be aware of that fact if proper attention had been given to public input on the matter. Please delay the final decision and allow for public hearings on the issue. And then, please make the decision in the best interests of American citizens, not the corporate media giants who are lobbying so mightily for these changes. After all, you are supposed to be representing citizen interest. Please do so.
